

Position: Intermediate Water/Wastewater Project Engineer

Job Description

ETO Engineering has an immediate opening for Intermediate Water/Wastewater Project Engineer who will be able to manage and assist senior engineers with day-to-day assignments.

The job responsibilities of this position include the following:

- Plan, assess, analyze and design water and wastewater infrastructure facilities
- Collect, assimilate, and manage data for engineering and administrative work
- Project coordination with multi discipline team members
- Recognize, define and resolve problems within assigned area
- Prepare and review various technical and administrative documents
- Consult and familiar with external agencies for permits and approvals processes and requirements
- Prepare engineering drawings using computer drafting software, e.g. AutoCAD and REVIT
- Assist contract administrators with shop drawing review, RFI responses, operations manual preparations, and commissioning planning, etc.

Qualifications

Minimum Requirements

- Professional Engineer, or eligible for registration with minimum 3-5 years of experience
- Understanding and knowledge of water and wastewater facilities and processes
- Must have logical thinking and strong technical writing skills
- A desire to work under pressure in an engineering firm
- Ability of informing, listening, and dealing with ambiguity
- Knowledge of engineering principles and standards related to assigned engineering discipline
- Strong computer skills and knowledge of MS Office, MS Project, and Autodesk products
- Strong technical capability, experience in Project Management is an asset but not mandatory
- Excellent communication skills to interact with clients, project team and stakeholders in person and virtually via MS Teams, Zoom etc.

About Us

ETO Engineering is a professional engineering firm focused on providing professional project management, engineering design and support services, to all industries, municipalities and contractors. In this position you will learn engineering concepts, procedures and details for your future engineer position. While getting an opportunity to be involved on actual engineering work, you can interact with the client, senior professionals directly.

Note: While we thank all applicants for their interest, only those selected for an interview will be contacted.